Choosing a Tree

Today on Gardening in a Minute, selecting the right tree for your yard.

Trees provide a foundation for your landscape and benefit us in so many ways. Yet with all the great things we know about trees, most people are not sure how to go about selecting the right tree for their situation.

One of the things you can do to help select your tree might be to drive around your neighborhood and see which trees are doing well and which ones you like.

Look over the area and check for powerlines and other obstacles. Think about the care it will take and use recommended tree lists for Florida to make your choice. By following good tree selection and planting advice, the right tree can help to transform your yard into the paradise you have always wanted.

For more information on selecting the right tree for your yard, contact your local Extension office or browse to gardening in a minute dot com.
