Garden Sheds

Today on Gardening in a Minute: garden sheds.

Garden sheds can serve as a home for all your gardening gear, a simple work and storage area, or even a spot to relax!

Coordinate yours with the style of your garden or the design of your house.

Garden sheds are easily purchased from retailers in just about every size, style and material imaginable, or you can make your own!

Before adding a shed to your garden, plan ahead. Check with your county and homeowners' association for any required permits. Consider how it will be used and where the best location would be. Will your structure be a centerpiece, or tucked away from view?

Don't hesitate to call a professional if you need help. You'll want your little house to last as long as your big one!
