Indoor Herb Garden Kits

Today on Gardening in a Minute: indoor herb garden kits.

Even if you don’t have a sunny windowsill, you can still grow herbs indoors, thanks to new products on the market.

These kits include everything you need to get started, including seeds, a full-spectrum grow light, and either pots or a hydroponic container system.

You can choose from basil, oregano, thyme, parsley, and many other herbs.

Start by inserting special pre-seeded pods into your hydroponic container or by planting seeds in the provided pots.

As the herbs grow, just add water and nutrients as recommended.

Hydroponic kits will produce finished herbs faster than potted ones, but they typically cost more.

Start your indoor herb garden today, and you can have fresh herbs in time for holiday dinners!
